

Bernarr Legue

Born

Died:

Period of Service: Civil War

Sources: J Miner Early Days

He was one of the first two to enlist in May 1861. Billie Smith was the other one. Both enlisted in Green Bay. They were nothing but school boys and they came to visit the school before they went to the front. Our teacher was Miss Spence, quite an old maid, nearly 30. She gave them good advice and warned them against liquor. I think Billie Smith heeded her advice and left liquor alone, but Bernarr Legue died drunk on his way home at Philadelphia. (J Miner)

No mention in RootsMagic.