Entered service. August 1982

Discharged: 2003

He entered the US Coast Guard Academy in August 1982 and graduated with a bachelor's degree in science in civil engineering as an ensign. He then went through the Navy's flight program, graduating from Pensacola and Corpus Christi where he received his wings. He then flew C-130's for the Coast Guard from Tampa, North Carolina and Alaska. After that he was assigned to the Coast Guard Station in Washington DC where he was one of four pilots flying G-5 Gulf Stream jets for the admiral of the Coast Guard.

He retired from the Coast Guard after 21 years of service with the rank of full commander. He now flies the Gulf Stream jets for a private company.
